They sent me to A&E for some tests.

So-called ‘miracle cures’ may actually do you harm.

My mum is really adventurous and is always going on holiday to strange places.

Apart from the symptoms you described, do you feel well?

Many people assume that what they read on the internet is fact.

Do you think they will ban fur coats?

He always wears a blazer over his shirt.

Those blue chinos look great on you.

Use a piece of clean cloth as a bandage.

I’m so clumsy – I’m always breaking things.

I have a confession to make – I’ve lost the handbag you gave me.

Do you know people in that age group who don’t conform to stereotypes?

The only consolation for this condition is that I’m in good company.

Cover the wound with a clean bandage.

Did you create this report using information from the internet?

A cyberchondriac researches symptoms online.

Wait for a few days and see how your symptoms develop.

The online information often doesn’t discriminate between common and very rare conditions.

She appeared in a TV documentary about old people.

I had a wonderful Dutch cheese when I was in Amsterdam.

What if the ECG machine was faulty?

Elderly people often feel lonely.

Does that condition really exist?

He tried to pay his bus fare with a £20 note.

After days of intensive internet diagnosis, I finally went to see my GP.

Some medicines bought online may do you harm.

He’s a strong believer in herbal medicine.

My uncle always thinks he’s ill – he’s such a hypochondriac.

It made me realise how ignorant I was.

I’m going to ignore you because you are annoying me.

It’s impossible to cure this illness.

Will the treatment involve an operation?

Should I lean my head forwards or backwards if I have a nosebleed?

I’m going to buy a heart rate monitor.

This blister is really painful.

One of my new friends is a pensioner.

She has a piercing in her eyebrow.

Pinch the soft part of the nose.

If you haven’t got a bandage you can use a clean plastic bag.
